what are the elements that really constitute an action in gandhi s worldview what is the basis and nature of his action how his views on action are related to his metaphysics theory of knowledge and ethics from where does he get inspiration for his views on the action as action relates the individual to others how does gandhi see the relation between the self and other is there any action or actions needed for oneself before engaging with others as gandhi tends to adhere to the hindu philosophical tradition and of which the law of karma is an integral part then how does gandhi get influenced by and reflect on the law of karma this book essentially deals with these questions it attempts to explore and construct gandhi s philosophy of action through a discursive journey of his writings it argues that gandhi s philosophy of action is the outcome of his unified metaphysics epistemology and ethics it marks out that his philosophy of action comprises three essential inseparable components universal love responsibility and detachment throughout his long career as a political thinker and activist mahatma gandhi encountered the dilemma of either remaining faithful to his nonviolent principles and risking the failure of the indian nationalist movement or focusing on the seizure of political power at the expense of his moral message putting forward his vision of a nonviolent nationalism gandhi argued that indian self rule could be achieved without sacrificing the universalist imperatives of his nonviolent philosophy conceived as a study in the history of political thought this book examines the origins meaning and unfolding of gandhi s dilemma as it played itself out in both theory and political practice this discussion is inextricably linked to significant and timely issues that are critical for the study of nationalism for gandhi s vision raises the important question of whether it is indeed possible to construct a benign type of nationalism that is rooted in neither physical nor conceptual forms of violence this book addresses the topics of autobiography self representation and status as a writer in mahatma gandhi s autobiographical work the story of my experiments with truth 1927 1929 gandhi remains an elusive figure despite the volumes of literature written on him in the seven decades since his assassination scholars and biographers alike agree that no work on his life has portrayed him in totality desai 2009 and although arguably the most popular figure of the first half of the twentieth century and one of the most eminent luminaries of our time gandhi the individual remains as much an enigma as a person of endless fascination murrell 2008 yet there has been relatively little scholarly engagement with gandhi s autobiography and published output has largely been concerned with mining the text for its biographical details with little concern for how gandhi represents himself the author addresses this gap in the literature while also considering gandhi as a writer this book provides a close reading of the linguistic structure of the text with particular focus upon gandhi s self representation drawing on a cognitive stylistic framework for analysing linguistic representations of selfhood emmott 2002 it will be of interest to stylisticians cognitive linguists discourse analysts and scholars in related fields such as indian literature and postcolonial studies discusses gandhi s creative use of ascetic practice particularly his practice of celibacy for nonviolent activism
